TARIFF PROTECTION IS HELD EXCEEDINGLY DANGEROUS

The Toronto Globe says that: Reviewing the effect British preferential tariffs had on world trade W. H. Moore, M. P. and former Chairman of the Federal Advisory Board on Tariff and Taxation, fore- saw political danger within the Em- pire if these preferences were carried too far. Mr. Moore was chief speaker at the first annual dinner of the Canadian Importers' Association, Toronto parent branch in the Royal York Hotel recently. I am all for British preference, but we must see the political danger that lies within the Empire he said.

He declared that preferences as listed under the Imperial Con- ference agreements were virtually protection, and warned that reduc- ed tariffs did not always reduce prices. The text of his address was Tariff Palliates and he continued by claiming that certain preferen- ces granted to Britain were ineffec- tive because of the clause that the price fixed would be governed by the prevailing world price. He sought to show why this would be impossible when Canada had to live up to a social order in labor conditions which did not prevail in many countries.

Introduced by Sir John Aird, Mr. Moore was commended for his work on tariff questions and de- clared that any Government re- gardless of its politics, would do well to use his services.

JOHN W. DAFEE DECLARES WORLD RECOVERY DEPENDS LARGELY ON FOUR EVENTS

Strathmore, Man.—Speaking be- fore the Laughlin Canadian club on the subject of prospects for 1932, John W. Dafee, editor in chief, Winnipeg Free Press, said that the world was now undergoing a pro- cess of rigid thorough-going liqui- dation and that world recovery de- pends largely upon the results of the four great events, or catalysts, which are awaited for this year. These are the League of Nations, the disarmament conference and the solution of war debts.

The innumerable explanations of the world wide depression are right as far as they go, but they are only chips in the stream, deriv- atives of the real cause which was the war. The war was the ex- plosion of the international system, that might is right he said.

The sun stood still for nearly five years during the fratricidal struggle, said Mr. Dafee, and we still wonder why we have the con- dition we have. The post war pros- pect is a result of a war that burned up fifty billion in wealth and cost ten million lives.

In the fourth year of the depres- sion, it is beginning to be realized that international co-operation is necessary if total disaster is to be averted. With three fifths of the trade of the world destroyed since 1929, the cowardice and silence of public men, and the fatalistic atti- tude of the people is waning and the democratic peoples of the world are awakening to the fact that this year must see a show down to discover if governments have yet acquired common sense.

With regard to reparations, Mr. Dafee said that those responsible for drawing up the schedule know- ing at the time that it was a political fake which was followed by 10 years of agony trying to exact pay- ments from a country from whom goods were refused. In Washington there is a crisis, and they have not got the guts to tell the people that they had been kidded to believe Germany could pay.

It is an essential thing that be- fore world machinery can be put into working order there be a uni- versal recognition of the state of affairs. There must be a condi- tion of general stability relative to the outlawing of war, of trade wars and a stability of monetary sys- tems, he stated.

In the matter of disarmament, five powers of Europe were now getting together on a new basis, with a possibility they will agree that never again will they resort to force.

Great Britain has paid her in- stallment of war debts with ap- pro- priety due in June. It has been sug- gested in England that the govern- ment ship the gold and remain off the gold standard. Mr. Dafee said that adjustment or cancellation of war debts would instantly react on the fortunes of individuals and im- mediately restore confidence. These first three things are in some process of settlement at the time of the world economic confer- ence then something may be ac- complished. International trade is good and international co-operation is vital. The nations of the world must forget and forego many things they have heretofore cher- ished and avoid such provocative things as that which caused the World War and its terrible after- math.

In conclusion, the speaker said: The world conference should be a good time to find out where the nations actually stand with regard to international trade and their present indicated feeling that countries can live to themselves alone.

UNIQUE SYSTEM OF PHONE SERVICE ON RURAL LINES TO BE TRIED IN MANITOBA

Winnipeg—Pat reaching plans for the maintaining of rural tele- phone service in the face of de- pressed farm prices were announc- ed by Commissioner F. P. Lowry. The plans, as outlined by the commissioner to the Free Press, involve installation of a measured service system on rural lines. Under the system the farmer will pay a nominal monthly rental for his telephone, and will pay no more unless he puts through calls requir- ing connections to be made through a central office. He may call another man on the same rural line without charge.

The flat monthly rental now contemplated is 50 cents. For each call made through a central office the charge will be five cents. The plan is being tried out primarily, Mr. Lowry said, to keep farmers supplied with telephone service.

Present rural rates in Manitoba average $2 monthly. If, under the new plan, sub- scribers continued to use their phone as much as previously, the result would be an increase in the average rates. Under it, how- ever many hard pressed subscrib- ers who found the old rental too much of a burden, could still have the benefit of the telephone. Its service would still be available.

Little possibility exists of put- ting such a plan into operation in the province, Mr. Lowry indicated. If it were installed here and subscribers charged on a basis of calls made, average rates would jump over 100 per cent, he said. Furthermore he pointed out, all city calls involve a connection through a central office. Rural party line subscribers can call other subscribers on the same line without calling central.

First place in the province where the new plan is being tried out is at Oakville. One line with ten telephones is now being put in to operation. Mr. Lowry said. At several other places it is proposed to install the system. Blocked rural roads have prevented the tele- phone authorities from getting about as quickly as they wished, however.

The new measured service plan is a part of the general hand time programme of the Manitoba Tele- phone system. Other phases of it include the taking of grain from farmers at payment of telephone bills. The telephone system has also taken notes from rural sub- scribers. In all cases the pro- gramme is working to the advan- tage of the farmer and to the tele- phone system, Mr. Lowry declared.

Keep Money in your Own Town

Not a week passes that Merchants are not being adver- sed by representatives of nationally-advertised products to stock and push them, and to give them good window and counter displays.

Local Retailers Is It FAIR?

Their representatives tell you of the large sums of money being spent in metropolitan daily newspapers and in nationally-circulated magazines, to create and maintain consumer demand, and they try hard to persuade you that such "ramrod" advertising will surely create and sustain large local demand.

It is admitted that it is advan- tageous to you and your customers for you to stock nationally adver- sed products, but such products will sell faster if they are locally advertised, in addition to being ad- vertised in non local publications. There is no good or sound reason why a national advertiser should not do local advertising in this newspaper. You will be told, when you say to the representa- tive of firms canvassing you to stock and push his firm's product, "Oh, we could never afford to do local advertising." What he really means, when he says such words, is that he doesn't expect large local sales. If he did, then he would see that these local sales can pro- vide a sum of money adequately to maintain a local advertising campaign.

Why should you help a national advertiser to develop his business in the territory covered by the cir- culation of this newspaper without advertising co-operation from him? You provide local distribution facilities for manufacturers of branded products, and your value to them is recognized. Why, then, should these manufacturers not as- sist you to sell these goods, if stocked by you, by a series of lo- cal advertisements, perhaps carry- ing your name as local distributor, published in this newspaper?

The more frequently and vigorously you present your point of view to national advertisers, direct and through the representative who calls on you, the more surely will you persuade them to accept it.

ROCKYFORD

We are sorry to hear that Albert Stum is still in the Holy Cross Hospital suffering from an injury received while cranking the engine about three weeks ago, and all are hoping he will soon be on his way to recovery.

Mr Carl Johnson had the misfortune to lose most of his finger one day last week when the portion of the pump which he was repairing slipped and caught his hand. Dr Yarmarko gave him first aid.

The hockey team are back on the job again after having laid off for the cold weather. Monday evening they play at Gleichen with the Indians and are also booked up for Wednesday and Friday as well.

Mrs Yarmarko and her son have arrived in Rockyford to take up their residence with the Doctor.
They are at present living in the Maurice home where the Doctor has his office. Mrs Yarmarko will find our severe weather rather trying.

Although the weather has been very cold it was mild enough for a good many to be out to the Ice den School on Friday evening Feb 10th to take part in the bridge and whist drive and the dance that followed. The school was crowded with a group that were all anxious to win the several prizes. The fortunate winners for bridge were:

Alison Carpenter, Herman Brown, Conversations went to A. E. Robinson. Whist winners were: Miss L.
Dyer and Florence Deane. Consolation Mr P. Stitt. After a very enjoyable lunch provided by the Ice-den. Eddie Diebert presided at the piano for a few hours of dancing.
The music was good and the young people, especially, had a most enjoyable time. The Teacher Mr W.
Gibson wishes to thank all who helped to make the evening such a success.

NEW PUBLICATION ON
POULTRY FEEDING

A new leaflet entitled "Poultry Feeding for Egg Production" has just been prepared by Miss Helen
I. Milne, of the University Poultry Department. This leaflet discusses the various important points to observe in keeping the flock in good health and profitable production during the winter months. It also outlines what and how to feed for best results under different conditions, how to make the best use of home grown feeds and other available material and how to manage the flock under lights so as to stimulate production during the season of highest prices. This leaflet is one of a series covering the different phases of poultry work, all of which are available for distribution to anyone who is interested.

Those desiring copies of this leaflet can obtain it free on application to the Department of Poultry at the University or from the Department of Extension.

OBSTETRICS RECORD

Cornwall—Dr C. J. Hamilton, veteran Cornwall physician and cord set by Dr C. B. Oliver, Chatham has averaged one maternity case a day or a total of 1,150 births in three years. In his first fifty years of practice here Dr Hamilton's average was 112 a year. Dr Hamilyear, is engaged actively in the practice of his profession, and today is attending grandmothers
